DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on December 8, 2003 has been entered.

Response to Amendment and Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 76, 94, 106, 109 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 76-77, 94-95 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tabata et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,774,232 ("Tabata").

Art Unit: 2623

Referring to claim 76, Tabata discloses an image outputting system for outputting image data to an output medium, the system comprising:

a. designation means for designating an outputting area in image data obtained by computerizing an input image to be outputted to an output medium (col. 16, lines 9-10 and col. 16, line 62-col. 17, line 8. Note that the “read image” in col. 16, line 67-col. 17, line 1 is interpreted as the “outputting area”)

b. selection means for selecting one of a plurality of output medium sizes (col. 16, lines 62-67. Note that an output medium size is selected before it is fed into the document feeding means)

c. determination means for determining an output mode based on a relationship between the designated outputting area and the output medium size selected by the selection means (col. 16, line 62-col. 17, line 8).

Referring to claim 77, Tabata further discloses that the determination means determines an output mode based on whether or not the outputting area falls within an effective image area of the selected output medium size (col. 16, line 62-col. 17, line 8).

Referring to claim 94, see the rejection of at least claim 76 above.

Referring to claim 95, see the rejection of at least claim 77 above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2623

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 78-79, 96-97 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the combination of Tabata et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,774,232 ("Tabata") and Endo et al., U.S. Patent No. 6,335,796 ("Endo").

Referring to claim 78, Tabata further discloses that the determination means includes a segmenting output mode where an outputting area is segmented into a plurality of segmentation areas and outputted to a plurality of output media (col. 16, line 62-col. 17, line 8).

Tabata fails to disclose that the determination means includes a life-size output mode, a reduced image output mode, and an extraction output mode. However, these features were exceedingly well known in the art. For example, Endo discloses an output determination means that includes a life-size output mode wherein an entire outputting area is outputted in an actual size (col. 10, lines 63-65), a reduction image output mode where an outputting area is reduced and then outputted (col. 11, lines 8-10), and an extraction output mode where a predetermined area is extracted from an outputting area and then outputted (col. 11, lines 2-8. Note that the "area of concern" in line 7 extracts a predetermined area such as the lung area to be output.).

Tabata and Endo are both concerned with outputting an image on different output medium sizes. Endo's system reduces troublesome procedures on the part of the operator, thereby allowing the outputting to be performed optimally under various conditions (Endo, col. 12, lines 18-23). Therefore, it would have been obvious to modify the determination means of

Tabata, to include a life-size output mode, a reduced image output mode, and an extraction output mode, as taught by Endo, in order to enhance the output process.

Referring to claim 79, Endo further discloses that the determination means settles the output mode to one of the reduced image output mode, when an output medium size selected by a selection means is not appropriate for the life-size output mode (col. 11, lines 20-33).

Referring to claim 96, see the rejection of at least claim 78 above.

Referring to claim 97, see the rejection of at least claim 79 above.

5. Claims 106, 109 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tabata et al., U.S. Patent No. 5,774,232 ("Tabata").

Referring to claims 106 and 109, see the discussion of at least claim 76 above. Tabata further discloses a means for imaging an object (document) and obtaining image data representing the object image (col. 16, lines 9-13), but fails to explicitly disclose a photographing means for photographing the object. However, the Examiner notes that Tabata's imaging means and a photographing means are both used to produce image data. Furthermore, Official notice is taken that a photographing means for photographing an object was exceedingly well known and commonly used in the art. Therefore, since Tabata is concerned with obtaining image data, it would have been obvious to modify the imaging means of Tabata so that it is a photographing means for photographing an object.
